About the department

The Department of Resources (Resources) has a clear purpose - helping the community and the government make the best use of our renewable and non-renewable land, mineral and energy resources.

Partnerships with our customers and stakeholders are important to us, as we work to deliver policies, programs and services that support industry while reflecting the needs of the broader community.

Our department supports the Queensland government's commitment to inclusion and diversity, ensuring our responsibility as leaders and individuals drives change and builds a public sector for all, where everyone feels safe, respected and included.

We expect all employees, from every classification level, to be accountable for enabling an inclusive workplace culture that values diversity and respect. We also have a responsibility to attract, develop and retain a workforce which reflects the community we serve.

Our purpose is to capitalise on Queensland's resources for sustainable economic prosperity and just outcomes. Our vision is to be an influential economic department that advocates in the public interest.

Under our strategic plan, we will work to achieve five strategic objectives:

- Optimised use of land resources of the state.
- Increased and diversified private sector investment in georesources.
- Innovation driven to unlock our data's potential
- Great careers: a contemporary workforce set apart by its expertise, innovation, collaboration and leadership.
- Positive stakeholder and public sentiment on all of our policies, programs and people

Our guiding principles described in the strategic plan build upon the Queensland public service values. They aim to explicitly guide our actions and represent fundamental, positive leadership standards to which each employee can aspire:

- Proactive
- Collaborative
- Resilient
- Respectful
- Pragmatic
- Courageous

Background

The Disability Services Act (Qld) 2006 provides a foundation for promoting the rights of Queenslanders with disability, increasing their wellbeing and encouraging their participation in community life. This legislation requires all Queensland Government departments/agencies to develop and implement a Disability Service Plan (DSP) outlining the actions they will take to improve services for people with a disability.

Context

The purpose of the DSPs is to ensure each agency has regard to the Act's human rights and service delivery principles, and the government's policies for people with disability. DSPs aim to improve access to services across government for people with disability, including more coordinated responses.

The DSPs and the state disability plan align with, and will deliver on, Queensland's commitments under the National Disability Strategy (NDS). The NDS, represents a unified approach by all governments in Australia and the Australian Local Government Association to work together with business and the community towards the vision of an inclusive Australia.

The All Abilities Queensland Strategy sets a vision of "Opportunities for all Queenslanders" with five priority areas being:

1. Communities for all
2. Lifelong learning
3. Employment
4. Everyday services
5. Leadership and participation to guide action by Queensland Government and encourage other to act to bring the plan to life.

The Queensland Disability Recovery Action Plan has been developed as an interim initiative under the All Abilities Queensland Strategy, to support Queenslanders with disability and the Disability Sector to recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

Legal Context

Access to employment is protected under State and Commonwealth law through the Anti-Discrimination Act 1991 (Qld) and the Disability Discrimination Act 1992 (Cth) which prohibit direct or indirect discrimination.

Disability, as defined by the Disability Discrimination Act 1992 (Cth) means:

- a) total or partial loss of the person's bodily or mental functions; or
- b) total or partial loss of a part of the body; or
- c) the presence in the body of organisms causing disease or illness; or
- d) the presence in the body of organisms capable of causing disease or illness; or

- e) the malfunction, malformation or disfigurement of a part of the person's body; or
- f) a disorder or malfunction that results in the person learning differently from a person without the disorder or malfunction; or
- g) a disorder, illness or disease that affects a person's thought processes, perception of reality, emotions or judgment or that results in disturbed behaviour; and includes a disability that:
- h) presently exists; or
- i) previously existed but no longer exists; or
- j) may exist in the future (including because of a genetic predisposition to that disability); or
- k) is imputed to a person.

To avoid doubt, a disability that is otherwise covered by this definition includes behaviour that is a symptom or manifestation of the disability.

It is unlawful for an employer to discriminate against employees or applicants for a position on the grounds of the person's disability and this includes, but is not limited to:

- arrangements made for a selection process
- the terms or conditions on which employment is offered
- limiting opportunities or access to training
- not making changes to remove barriers to equal opportunity, participation or performance (also known as reasonable adjustment). Reasonable adjustments are broad by nature and might include adjustments to hours of work and leave entitlements, access to equipment or other assistance, providing training to co-workers and supervisors as examples.

The Human Rights Act 2019 states:

Every person in Queensland has the right, and is to have the opportunity, without discrimination to participate in the conduct of public affairs, directly or through freely chosen representatives.

Every eligible person has the right, and is to have the opportunity, without discrimination—

- a. to vote and be elected at periodic State and local government elections that guarantee the free expression of the will of the electors; and
- b. to have access, on general terms of equality, to the public service and to public office.

Our commitment

Resources are committed to having a diverse and inclusive workforce that reflects the community we serve. The actions outlined in this document support the department's commitment as well as the Queensland Government's vision of a state where the one in five Queenslanders who have a disability can thrive and reach their full potential as equal citizens.

Monitoring and reporting

The department will report annually on the implementation of the DSP and contribute to a yearly progress report on the implementation of the state disability plan.

Information from the annual progress reports on DSPs and the state disability plan will also be shared with the Australian and other state and territory governments as part of reporting on Queensland's commitment to the National Disability Strategy.
